Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/681,533	Applicant(s) NAKASE ET AL.
	Examiner Mark A. Williams	Art Unit 3676

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Minami et al., US Patent 6,886,221, published 8/14/03. An opening and closing device comprising a stator 14 having a stator cam 15; a rotor 12 having a rotor cam 13 urged to be in contact with the stator cam by a rotor spring 11, a reverse-rotor 17 having a reverse-rotor cam 18 urged to be in contact with the stator cam by a reverse rotor spring 28; and, a releaser 31 having a release cam 27 and being movable along an axis; so that when the releaser moves along the axis, the release cam presses against the reverse-rotor cam of the reverse-rotor, to cause said device to open. The stator cam is one of a plurality of stator cams, as claimed.

3. Claims 7-12 are allowed.

~~Conclusion~~

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest an opening and closing device in the entire claimed combination, including a rotary case in substantially tubular shape; a fix cover covering an end of the rotary case; a stator, a rotor, and a rotor spring aligned along substantially a same axis; in coil shape inside the rotary case and a releaser accommodated in an inner periphery of the stator and the rotor; a fix shaft with an end thereof connected to the fix cover and another end thereof connected to the stator; a reverse-rotor accommodated in an inner periphery of the rotor; and a reverse-rotor spring, which is accommodated in an inner rotor spring, for pushing the reverse rotor, periphery of the wherein the stator has a first stator cam and a second stator cam facing the reverse rotor, wherein an inclined angle or a tip portion of the first stator cam is different from an inclined angle of a tip portion of the second stator cam.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. In view of applicant's amendments, new art has been applied meeting all the claim limitations.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
